

Chong-Xian Pan, M.D. (Shanghai/Fudan Medical University), Ph.D. (Loyola University Chicago Medical Center), M.S. (University of California Davis School of Medicine), Residency (Saint Francis Hospital University of Illinois at Chicago), Hem/Onc fellowship (Indiana University), associate professor of medicine – hematology and oncology, and urology at UC Davis Comprehensive Cancer Center. Selected honor and leadership roles: co-leader of the Prostate-Urothelial Carcinoma Program at UC Davis, member of the Novartis Tyrosine Kinase Inhibitor advisory board, scientific advisory board member of the Bladder Cancer Advocacy Network (BCAN). Area of focus: bladder cancer, cancer stem cells, nanotherapeutics, immunotherapy and biomarkers. Role: co-chair of the Mentorship Committee. E-mail: cxpan@ucdavis.edu